

Schedule for the 2018 Summer Program June 11—August 4, 2018 (8 weeks)

Updated on Nov. 27, 2017

June 11-17, 2018 (Houston)

Take a one-week pre-departure preparation course at the University of Houston. Directed by Dr. Guoquan Wang

Day 1, Program orientation

Day 2, International travel and study abroad workshop, offered by the UH Learning Abroad Office (<https://www.uh.edu/learningabroad>)

Day 3, Introduction to Chinese culture and language, lectured by Dr. Youmei Liu

Day 4, Introduction to GPS and field practice

Day 5, Introduction to LiDAR and field practice

Day 6-7, Departure preparation—Shopping and Packing.

June 18-22, 2018 (Beijing)

Day 1-2, Fly to Beijing.

Day 3, Visit the NSF office in Beijing

Day 4, Visit the National Geological Museum in Beijing

Day 5, Travel to Wuhan, the China University of Geosciences

June 23-July 8, 2018 (Wuhan)

Take a two-week Chinese Language and Culture course at the China University of Geosciences (Wuhan). Directed by Dr. Changqian Ma

July 9-17, 2017 (Zigui City—CUG Zigui Field Camp)

Investigate geology, tectonics, and geological hazards within the Three Gorges area. Directed by Dr. Hanwen Zhou and Dr. Guoquan Wang

July 18-26, 2016 (Badong City)

Investigate the Huangtupo landslide! Directed by Drs. Huiming Tang, Hanwen Zhou, and Guoquan Wang

July 27, 2018

Travel to Wuhan by bus

July 28, 2018

NSF-IRES: US-China Collaboration on Landslide Research and Student Training
(<http://ires.nsm.uh.edu>)

Travel to Beijing by train

July 29-30, 2018

Students fly back to Houston!

July 31--August 4, 2018 (Houston)

Program wrap-up at UH.